

WVHI convention and room reservation details

June 2, 2010

Good day, friends:

Co-Presidents Kevin Wilfong of Fairmont and George Gunnell of Winfield and the board of directors are pleased to announce the West Virginia Housing Institute Inc. convention will be July 20-22 at the Embassy Suites in Charleston, WV..

I continue to URGE you to RESERVE a room immediately. Our reserve rooms have had to be renewed and they, too, are nearly gone. You can always cancel. But last year a number of people missed the benefits of being right in the hotel and had to room elsewhere because the hotel quickly filled and we had to release rooms to others. So please get your room reservation right away. These benefits include access to a spectacular breakfast and afternoon cocktails.

Make your reservation by calling (304) 347-8700 x 2035 and ask for Pat Thorner. You must use the three-letter code H-I-I to get the $119 single, $129 double rate we have reserved

We have an exciting event planned for this year. Our keynote speaker is Joseph Stegmayer, CEO of Cavco Industries Inc. of Phoenix, AZ, and the new owner of Fleetwood Homes. In addition, we have a number of openings on the board of directors and at least 11 people have filed their candidacies so far.

We have tried to create a format that will give you two full working days and allow you to depart immediately after breakfast on July 22, so we have moved the lawyers' forum from July 22 to the afternoon of July 20.

Briefly, the format will be registration after 1 p.m. July 20, with our lawyers' forum from 3-5 p.m., cocktail hour, and then eats and drinks at the Appalachian Power Park baseball game. On July 21 we will have our morning classes, then golf for those playing and free time for those not, our banquet and auction that evening.

I will be sending your golf and our registration by a separate mail or email.

Please call right away for your reservations by using this simple three-letter code: H-I-I and do it today.

Let me know if you need anything else. Thanks and we look forward to seeing all of you and your families at this evening.

Andrew V. Gallagher
Executive Director
(304) 415-4187